Physics of the Permanent Cavity of the Firearm Wound

Published On: March 19, 2015 | Pages: 001 - 005

Author(s): Emad Eldieb*

In this paper we would put a mathematic relation between the displacement(x2) of penetration of the lunched bullet inside the victim and the displacement(x1) in air before impact. The cardinal achievement of the article is that we use the physical definition of the inertial own mass of the matter as defined in the paper published by the author in 2014 under the title; ...
