Clinical evaluation of qingre jiedu quyu decoction in the treatment of systemic lupus erythematosus and its effect on NLRP3 inflammatory bodies

Published On: December 29, 2020 | Pages: 069 - 072

Author(s): Caijin Cao, Zhiying Wu and Weidong Xu*

Objectives: To evaluate the clinical efficacy of Qingre Jiedu Quyu Decoction in the treatment of Systemic Lupus Erythematosus (SLE) and its effect on NLRP3 inflammatory bodies. Methods: From January 2017 to December 2019, 74 patients with SLE were randomly divided into control group and observation group. The patients in the control group were given routine treatment ...

Effect of methoxatin loaded chitosan conduit on deep digital flexor tendon healing in rabbits: An animal model study

Author(s): Negin Mozafari*, Mohammad Velayati, Azad Bahrampour, Erfan Yarahmadi, Roghaiyeh Nelsari and Rahim Mohammadi

Chitosan is of great interest in regenerative medicine because of its plentiful properties, like biocompatibility, biodegradability and non-toxicity. The objective of the present study was histopathological and biomechanical survey on effect of methoxatin loaded chitosan conduit on Deep Digital Flexor Tendon (DDFT) healing in rabbit models. Eighteen healthy male white ...

Treatment of Trans-Scaphoid Perilunate Injuries of the Wrist using a Nitinol Staple for Fixation

Published On: June 04, 2020 | Pages: 009 - 013

Author(s): Alec J Talsania*, Christine B Novak and Miguel A Pirela-Cruz
Treatment of trans-scaphoid perilunate injuries of the wrist presents a clinical challenge for patients and the treating hand surgeon. In the past, traditional treatment consisted of combined volar and dorsal approaches, repair of all of the involved ligaments, screw fixation of the scaphoid fracture, and immobilization until the scaphoid is radiographically united. W ...
Background: Wnt signaling pathways are taking a part in regulation of cell fate decisions in normal and cancerous cells. In some cancer types, a transition from canonical to non-canonical Wnt signaling pathways was identified, a phenomenon, that in return led to increase proliferation, invasiveness and metastasis. Methods: In the current in vitro study we investigat ...

An atypical pulmonary presentation of Sjögren’s Syndrome

Sjögren’s syndrome is an autoimmune disease characterized by exocrine glands lymphocytic infiltration. However, some manifestations can happen outside the secretory glands affecting multiple organs. We report a 63-year-old man without previous history of any rheumatologic disease and negative arthralgias, mucosal or ocular dryness, in which findings of chest CT scan w ...
